Corn: the chief cereal crop of wheat, oats, maize, barley etc.

Harvest: the time of the year when the crop is ready

Sighing: sound of a deep, loud breath or exhale taken in relief

Chanting: singing

Deeds: acts

Answer the following questions:

1. Note the following phrases: corn growing, people working or dancing, wind sighing, rain falling, a singer chanting

Can you rewrite the other phrases like this? Why do you think the poet uses the shorter phrases?

Ans: Yes, like thoughts which are happy, deeds that are good, melodies that are heard. The poet has used these phrases to add beauty and rhythm to the poem. Shorter forms also highlight the idea and make them more impactful.

2. How can one hear beauty in nature?

Ans: A person can hear beauty during the night. It can be heard during the rainfall, in the sound of the wind. It can also be heard when a singer is singing. It can be heard anywhere where things are done eagerly and seriously.

3. What is beauty? Where can, in the poet's opinion, beauty be seen, heard and experienced?

Ans: It is difficult to describe or define beauty. But beauty attracts everybody and is appreciated all over the world. Where does beauty lie in? Well, it is visible in the sunlight, the trees, the birds, the crops and the harvesters who dance merrily. Beauty is heard in the night when the wind blows or rain falls or some singer sings. But the real beauty lies in noble actions and thoughts at all times whether working or resting.

4. What is beauty according to the poet?

Ans: Beauty is a quality which can attract everyone. It is liked by all and can be seen in the sunlight, trees and birds. It can be heard when the wind sighs and during the rainfall. It can also be heard during a calm night. Beauty is present within us when we indulge in good activities. Our thoughts become pure due to good actions. Good deeds and clean thoughts repeat themselves and bring happiness in the long-run. It gets reflected in work and even when we take rest. Good thoughts also come in our dreams.

Post activity: State the similar words related to beauty and also make collage on it.
